- ▶ Aligning and distribution of
- ▶ Rapid Growth of the telecommunication and computing technology for example such as the internet.

Advantages and Disadvantages of Globalization

- ▶ Disadvantages:unemployment in less develop countries
- ▶ Another country depending on the other for Goods
- ▶ Pollution of the environment with non-recyclable supplies

- ▶ Advantages: Enhancement of communication with technology through the internet.
- ▶ Development of different trade groups and companies across the globe

Questions: How can Globalization be developed more in undeveloped countries

- ▶ I think that globalization can help in the process of getting rid of the poor equality of most countries, that have been characterize as being undeveloped. and also help in the process of building new companies as a way of helping the economy to grow more even if, it's just a small amount of trade that's going to that or those countries.

Interviews on Globalization

Question:How do you see globalization as a way of helping developed countries

Interviewer1:It can help in the Detachment of modernizing the country more with stuff that most people are used to such as technology.

Interviewer2:Helps in the international trademanship of food supplies to countries that are lack of them.

Reasons for choosing this topic

- ▶ Upon writing this, globalization has had a huge impact on my country, which is Jamaica. It helps in the development of the country's technology system, mostly through the import of goods and services such as the internet. It also helps in the modernization of the country's inner communities, which are mostly away from a developed society. Over the years, it has helped in the development of schools that lack telecommunication systems, such as computers, and it also helps in the process of more individuals graduating from schools all over the country.

conclusion

- ▶ Globalization can have both advantages and disadvantages throughout the globe, stemming from technology, telecommunication and trades of goods and services. it also help in the modernizing of each country that is kept away from society.
